Texas Wesleyan University Press

To Submit a Manuscript for Review

Preparation of Manuscript:

- Double-spaced on 8.5 by 11 inch paper, one side only
- One-inch margins all around
- Flat, loose sheets in a box, unbound
- Standard 12 pt. fonts with minimal formatting
- Title page and table of contents
- Systematical page numbering by chapter or manuscript whole
- CD in Word included

Also include a brief letter of association describing the author’s affiliation or association with Texas Wesleyan University and/or the United Methodist Church, along with a statement of the author’s intended purpose or audience in publication.

Received manuscripts will be reviewed for their appropriateness to our list. We try to respond within four to six weeks. Should the manuscript be considered for publication, the manuscript will then be forwarded to a faculty advisory committee to further evaluate the potential contribution before being formally accepted for publication. At this final stage, authors will be consulted for copyright and other publication contractual agreements.

Please note: Other characteristics being equal, manuscripts that are basically “Camera ready,” or ready for publication with little or no editing, will receive preference at this time.

Submit manuscripts following the above format to:
Dr. Jeffrey DeLotto, General Editor
Texas Wesleyan University Press
1201 Wesleyan Street
Fort Worth TX 76105-1536